

English Plus Voluntary Work with International House Bath and Torquay 2005

International House Bath and Torquay offer a programme of English lessons and voluntary work in the local community. This programme gives you the opportunity to improve your English in our multi-national classes and also the possibility of becoming involved in local life by giving your time in voluntary work placements.

International House Bath

Subject to availability we can arrange placements with local care centres, charity shops, organisations caring for the homeless, the elderly, nursery schools and playgroups. While it is not always possible to guarantee the work placement of your choice we can find voluntary organisations who will be extremely grateful for your time.

To participate in the programme applicants should have a good intermediate knowledge of English. Because of legislation designed to protect vulnerable people applicants are required to bring a disclosure document with them from their local police department stating that they have no criminal convictions. This is not a requirement for placements in charity shops or for conservation work.

To help you to settle into studying, volunteering and living in Bath or Torquay and to help you get as much out of your stay as possible, we have developed the following programme.

WEEK 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Full-time English language study 21 hours (1hour = 60 minutes) • Placement test, • City orientation • Interview with a staff member regarding voluntary work placement
WEEK 2, 3, 4	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Morning study (15 hours) • Afternoon voluntary work

Optional outdoor conservation work can be offered at the weekend on request.
